

Disabled people from School to job - JobMeToo website facilities

Daniele Regolo

A person with disability who works creates an income, contributes to lower the social cost (because he/she is not on the dole) and becomes a resource for economy. Jobmetoo is the medium to develop this virtuous circle.

Jobmetoo – job for people with disabilities: is a recruiting service dedicated to people with disabilities, easy, effective and highly accessible. Services offered by Jobmetoo are designed in order to support companies with a complete offer that will solve all the aspect connected with the employment of people with disabilities.

BENEFITS FOR DISABLED WORKERS:

Jobmetoo increases the chances of employment and allows those with disabilities to search for employment in several ways:

- Freely fill in the CV and create a highly detailed profile
- Look at the compatible job positions and apply with a click
- Receive Job Alert messages
- Access to a team of professionals who have first-hand experience regarding living/working with a disability

ADVANTAGES FOR COMPANIES AND HR MANAGERS:

The services offered by Jobmetoo are designed to provide businesses with a complete solution to solve all issues and legal requirements relating to disability employment

- Fill in the profile of the company and contact the best candidates
- Insert the open job positions
- Freely search the database of candidates and save the most interesting profiles
- Be supported by a team of experienced professionals in the recruitment of people with disabilities

In Jobmetoo everything is done to give the opportunity to the worker to introduce his/herself (the website offers the chance to write a very accurate curriculum vitae). Jobmetoo also gives the opportunity to the companies to do an effective search, using detailed search filters.

This helps the match between companies – that need to hire people in their staff according to the Law (Legge 68/99-Collocamento mirato) – and job seekers (tens of thousands). Many of these appliers have high competences but Italy doesn't give them much exposure.

Jobmetoo was created by Daniele Regolo, a businessman with auditory disability. He knows what barriers a disabled has to face when searching for a job.
